

Spring is in the Air!

We hope that the winter has treated you well, but thank goodness spring is on its way. We are getting stuck into the hard work at work, home and in the garden. To help us, Simon and I have bought ourselves some matching Snickers work wear from our new range, top quality, hardwearing, comfortable and in a range of sizes that manage to fit our very different shapes well (good for girls and boys). We know that the current economic climate isn't necessarily great so we need to work together to make sure that you are buying smart and making savings where possible. We want to work with you to review your product ranges and make sure you are getting the best value for money. Let us do the work for you - speak with our sales team and we will do the best to help you in whatever way we can.

New Jones and Clark Website Launch

April 1st 2009 (no it's not an April Fools Joke!) sees the launch of our new website www.jonesandclark.co.uk. Powered by our Jones and Clark Marketing Team, the website has been redesigned and rebranded. The website contains many features such as latest company and industry news, improved usability and navigation. The site now has a modern day feel and contains product information, contact information and our Toolbank Online Shop which enables you to securely buy online with various delivery options including next day. Take a look!!

Any comments then please mail them to: webmaster@jonesandclark.co.uk.
